Hurricane Janet Takes More Than 100 Lives in Barbados

It Is Thought Thousands Have Lost Shelter

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (UPI) — More than 100 persons are believed to have perished and thousands were left homeless by Hurricane Janet's furious winds last night and today. Inland communications are knocked out and officials said it was impossible accurately to estimate the number of casualties.

A state of emergency has been declared throughout the 166-square mile British island, with a population of 200,000.

Damage to the island's main source of revenue—sugar cane—was estimated in the millions by authorities.

Electric power is beginning to be restored so that newspapers could publish small evening editions. Trucks roamed the island last night pillaging galvanized sheets and other material for building.

Storm forecasters said Janet must have battered some islands of the Grenadine group, a part of the Windwards, but they were silent in the storm's wake. St. Vincent, biggest of the Grenadines, was directly in Janet's path yesterday.

A hurricane hunter plane braved the storm's bone-shaking turbulence in midmorning to learn her exact course and intensity.

"She may have reached a higher velocity than 115 miles an hour," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster at Miami. "We ought to have that information during the day."

"She is traveling toward the west or slightly north of west. When she reaches the central Caribbean probably late tomorrow, Janet will encounter light and variable winds which would permit some change of course more toward the northwest. No abrupt change of direction is expected."

All warnings were down in the Windward Islands and an earlier hurricane alert for the Leeward chain and Puerto Rico was lifted.

In a predawn estimate by observers at the San Juan Weather Bureau, Janet, the 10th tropical storm of the season, was throwing her weight around with winds up to 115 m.p.h. over a small area near the center. She was described as having a well-defined eye about 20 miles in diameter; her future department was listed as uncertain.

Gales whipped out 140 miles to the north and 90 miles to the south.

A pace of about 15 m.p.h. was expected to continue throughout the morning.

"The water looked like boiling buttermilk," said Lt. Cmdr. Kenneth Mackie of Albany, N. Y., who flew a Navy Neptune hurricane-hunting plane into the eye of the storm 11 miles southeast of Barbados. "The storm's turbulence is extremely severe. I don't understand why that plane did not fall apart."

The hurricane smashed across Barbados Island, flattening flimsy wooden structures in which the poorer of the island's 200,000 inhabitants live. Shattered buildings and fallen trees blocked the main highways.

Communication lines were down and the airport at Bridgetown was closed.

No accurate estimate of the damage was available but relief work was under way.

Janet followed quickly on the heels of hurricanes Hilda and Irene.

There was no indication that Janet would strike the mainland. Forecasters pointed out she is a small, intense hurricane and may be on the weather map for a week or 10 days.

County Road Assistance...

State Makes Funds Ready For Use By County on Roads

State funds totaling $21,595 have been made available to Pettis County for aid in maintaining the county's state aid roads during the 1956 fiscal year.

Presiding Judge Frank Monroe, of the Pettis County Court, stated

2 Americans Detained By Reds Are Free

Are Among Twelve Held Up to Five Years By Chinese

HONG KONG (UPI) — Two American civilians long detained in Red China reportedly boarded a ship at Shanghai today. U. S. consular officials said. Four others are expected to leave by ship in the next two weeks.

The 6 are on the list of 12 civilians detained in China up to 5 years for lack of exit permits. The Reds announced recently at Geneva that they were free to leave.

U. S. Vice Consul Robert Aylward said he had received word that Emma Angelina Barry, 60, and Robert Howard Parker, 82-year-old Philadelphia-born businessman, were aboard the British freighter Hunan due in Hong Kong Sept. 27. Emma, whose American father's whereabouts is unknown, was reported to be with her White Russian mother. Parker was believed to be accompanied by his White Russian wife.

The four others expected to leave by ship:

Sister Eva Stella Dugay, 62, Boston Carmelite nun, known as Sister Theresa; Mrs. Marcelline Huizer of Walcott, Ind., who consular officials said would board the British freighter Surat leaving Shanghai next week for Hong Kong; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Ricks of Boscobel, Wis., booked to Yokohama in the Dutch ship Straat Bali leaving Shanghai Oct. 6. Mrs. Huizer is believed accompanied by her Dutch husband Pieter.

Mystery deepened today on when the Reds are freeing Dilmus T. Kanady, Houston cottonman, the only unreturned prisoner of 16 Americans promised immediate release at Geneva. Speculation was growing that Kanady, too, is being held by ship because of his reported poor physical condition.

Responsibility Limit On Training Schools

JEFFERSON CITY (UPI) — Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton issued an opinion today limiting the responsibility of the State Board of Training Schools for supervising juvenile delinquents.

W. E. Sears, training school director, requested the opinion. He was told it is not the board's duty to conduct pre-sentence investigations in juvenile cases, nor to supervise children found to be delinquent unless they are committed to one of the state's juvenile training schools.

If a child is committed to one of the institutions, the opinion added, then the board could parole him and would have the duty of supervising him until his discharge.

Other opinions:

Advised Harold W. Barrick, Pettis County prosecuting attorney, that the Pettis County court may pay the salary of a clerk in the county treasurer's office or reimburse the treasurer for the clerk's salary if the employee is necessary in the office.

Bar Association Will Try Fewer Committees

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — A recommendation that the Missouri Bar Association operate with few committees was made today by the retiring president.

Russell H. Doerner, St. Louis, said the organization had a cumbersome list of 41 committees and that during his tenure it took nearly three months just to fill them.

He suggested establishment of a new structure, divided into six departments, each with a department head.

Recommendations made by committees included one to explore the possibility of compensation for appointed counsel.

FREIGHT WITH RUBBER TIRES—Sharp turns are easy for this giant rubber-tired cross-country "freight train" as it takes a downtown street corner in Longview, Tex. Each of seven trailers, carrying East Texas logs, provides self power from electric motors in each of the wheels. Wheels follow in the track of the one immediately ahead, permitting sharp turns. Defense Rests Case In Negro Murder Trial

District Attorney In Final Argument Asks Jury Conviction

SUMNER, Miss. (UPI) — Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham, opening final state arguments, shouted today "the killing of Emmett Till . . . was a cowardly act" and told a country jury it should convict two white men of slaying the 14-year-old Negro boy.

Sweating profusely in the heat of a Mississippi Delta courtroom, Chatham loudly said: "The first words that entered this case were literally dripping with the blood of Emmett Till."

He charged 24-year-old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother John W. Milam, gave the Chicago boy "a court-martial with the death penalty imposed."

The first words in the kidnap-slaying, said Chatham, were "I want the boy from Chicago who did the talk at Money."

Mose Wright, the slain boy's sharecropper uncle, testified Milam used those words when he roused the 64-year-old man from bed early Aug. 28 and took Till from the cottonfield shack.

Attorneys for the two accused white men rested their defense at 10:22 a.m. CST today.

The defense finished its case after presenting six character witnesses, three each for 24-year-old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother, John W. Milam. Attorneys are expected to begin arguments to the jury before noon. Defendants did not testify.

Circuit Judge Curtis Swango again overruled defense motions for a directed verdict of innocent. The judge then ordered a brief recess before state prosecutors began their final summation to the jury.

In Mississippi, the state opens and closes the final arguments. The defense argument is sandwiched between the state's arguments.

The half-brothers are accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, 14-year-old Negro, and dumping his weighted body into the muddy Tallahatchie River.

Defenses attorneys appeared confident the all-male, all-white jury would free Bryant and Milam—principally, they felt, as a result of testimony by three defense witnesses attacking the identification of the battered body as that of Till.

In nonprimary states, national convention delegates are selected in state and district conventions and in a few instances by party committees.

No two presidential primary laws are alike. Some provide for election of definitely pledged delegates. Under others, delegates may be pledged or not. Still others provide for presidential preference or popularity contests where the people vote directly on presidential choices as well as for delegate candidates.

Defenses attorneys appeared confident the all-male, all-white jury would free Bryant and Milam—principally, they felt, as a result of testimony by three defense witnesses attacking the identification of the battered body as that of Till.

State attorneys privately voiced doubt they would get a guilty verdict.

"He is not our son."

There were many points of similarity between the infants.

Dr. Emanuel Harrison Nickman, Atlantic City pediatrician, said the boy found in a brown paper sack in St. Nicholas Catholic Church was "no more than a week old."

The foundling had been circumcised. So had Robert.

Robert weighed 6 pounds 6 1/2

ounces; the other boy 7 pounds 1

A final check of footprints of the two infants will be made by the FBI in Washington today. The FBI had AP Wirephotos and airmailed pictures of Robert's footprints.

Meanwhile, 1,000 or more persons—police, firemen, civil defense workers and college students—started a house-by-house search of the Willow Glen district of San Jose, 50 miles south of here.

A husky blonde woman with a baby has been seen there repeatedly under peculiar circumstances in the last two days, but never detained for questioning.

An untidy, buxom blonde—presumably with a mother complex—35 to 40 years old and 130-140 pounds, is sought. Such a woman was seen at the nursery just before the snatch.

The autumn season starts at 2:42 p.m., EST, today.

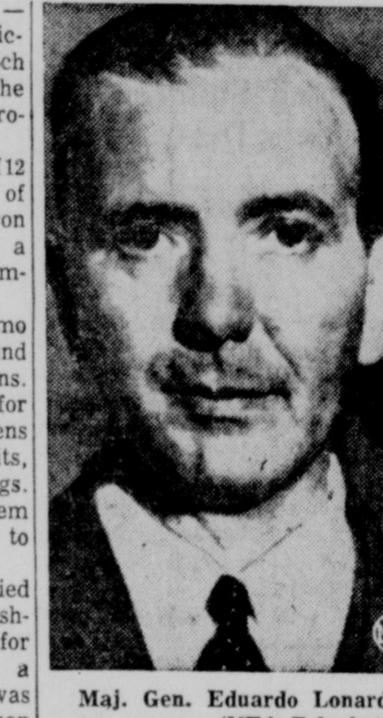

The Canadian cool air spread slowly southeastward over the Great Plains during the night and extended as far as the Texas Panhandle. Temperatures ranged from the low 30s and low 40s in the north sections to the 60s in the South.

U.N. true observers began an on-the-spot investigation of the ambush today after a complaint from Israel was received by the Israeli-Lebanese Mixed Armistice Commission which said it occurred in the mountains of Galilee, west of Safad and six miles south of the frontier.

Lonardi Takes Oath of Office As Provisional Argentine Chief

River Plate as Lonardi stepped from the DC3 which brought him here. He wore the green field uniform of the Argentine army, with a red and white general's cap.

Despite tanks and guards, the crowd surged toward the plane. It was halted for a moment as a band played the national anthem, then pushed on again.

A motorcycle escort helped the provisional President reach the airport building, about 100 feet from the plane, but he appeared to be more carried by the crowd than walking. Women waved white handkerchiefs in a traditional gesture of welcome and the crowd shouted:

"Viva Lonardi." Greeting him were Rear Adm. Isaac Rojas, who led the Argentine navy to victory in the rebellion, and Gen. Leonides Forcher, who led the delegation of Loyals which negotiated peace terms with the rebels.

The revolution leader's entry into Buenos Aires was preceded by an order from the provisional government for the arrest of all Peron supporters in the national Congress. Earlier, the new regime had dissolved the Congress, in which Peronists party members held all 34 Senate seats and all but 12 places in the 155-member lower house.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

The Book of Malachi, in its four brief prophetic chapters, unless I am a particularly obtuse person, is not easily comprehensible in some of its parts.

Even in the most difficult passages one does get a rather clear sense of the Prophet's purpose and meaning. He is denouncing the corruption of the times, and particularly the corruption of religion and the betrayal of their trust by the priests and official leaders of religion.

But here and there in the prophecy statements stand out with a clearness and boldness that have made them memorable for quotation ever since their time, and that mark them as expressing in brief and concise form the very essence of Jewish idealism. And the vision that the noblest Hebrew prophets had of the place and purpose of their religion in relation to other nations and peoples than in it.

In this dispersion of the Jews at least two outstanding things were notable. Wherever the Jew went they took their religion with them.

They prayed with their faces toward Jerusalem, but what was even more important they established the synagogues, centers of religion and education.

And they won many non-Jews to their faith. Gentiles drawn to them in that pagan world by the superior moral conceptions and disciplines of Judaism.

An oft-quoted passage is that about robbing God, and bringing all the tithes into the storehouse, with the promise of the Lord of hosts: "I will open you the windows of heaven, and pour out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

But most notable, in view of what was to happen to the Jewish people in the years following the return from the Babylonian Exile, and even in the centuries down to our own time, is Malachi's vision of Israel in relation to the nations. He represents the Lord of hosts as saying: "All nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land." (Malachi 3:12)

Dr. Elmer L. Hobbs, pastor of First Methodist Church, will use for his sermon subject next Sunday morning "Give." The Chancel Choir will sing "Create in Me a Clean Heart, O God" by Mueller and the Chapel Choir will sing "O, Jesus, I Have Promised" by Keating. Next Sunday is Canvass Day and a pledge service will be held at the close of the worship service.

Dr. and Mrs. Hobbs will leave

Sunday afternoon to attend the Southwest Missouri Annual Conference in St. Paul's Methodist Church in Springfield. The conference will adjourn on Wednesday.

TV Venture In Britain Is Applauded

LONDON (AP)—Britain's opening venture in commercial television got high marks today on the production side from most newspaper critics. But some warned the effects of the advertisements may be cumulative, like Rocky Marciano's punching.

The critics rated commercial TV a formidable threat to the state-sponsored BBC variety, which hitherto has monopolized British viewing screens.

The initial program was a mixture of vaudeville, drama, high-class music, news and boxing. The advertisements—24 of them during the 3½-hour showing—were muted and largely painless.

Several comedians took coy pokes at the rival British Broadcasting Corp. ("Hello, you BBC deserters out there!") but BBC was as dignified as a great Dane. It even returned kindness for quips, including in its 7 p.m. newscast an announcement that the independent TV would hit the airwaves 15 minutes later.

The historic first commercial showed a tube of toothpaste embedded in a block of ice. Offstage, a smooth-voiced announcer intoned: "It's tingling fresh. It does your gums good. It keeps your teeth as white as snow." Then a pretty girl brushed her teeth.

The advertisements, each one minute long, extolled such things as beer, chocolate, margarine and soap powder. They came at what were regarded "natural program breaks."

The dignified London Times commented:

"Offensive would be too strong a word by far for these comic little interruptions of entertainment. But one did feel, nonetheless, that a thick skin of resistance to them will be needed before long."

The Daily Mirror predicted a "lively battle" for supremacy between the new network and BBC. The Mirror said commercial TV's "pictures were clear and sharp, the sound clear and resonant, and the program had surefire pace and professional polish."

The News Chronicle felt the television plugs were so unobtrusive that "In general no American sponsor would have given them screen time."

The Communist Daily Worker found the whole show "extremely boring."

Investigator Says Cancer Quacks Cost Both Lives and Money

CHICAGO (AP)—An American Medical Assn. investigator says cancer quacks take the public for $5 million dollars a year and cause thousands of deaths among persons kept from obtaining early diagnosis by competent physicians. Oliver Field told an American Cancer Society meeting that if and when a cancer cure is found, the medical profession will make it known.

Fire Truck Crashes; Tiller Man Not There

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A long hook and ladder fire truck crashed against a new automobile which smashed into a second car at a road turn last night.

The tiller man—who steers the rear section of the fire truck—was not there.

Fire Chief Dennis Murphy quoted the unidentified tiller man as saying that because of the nature of the fire he didn't bother to board the vehicle at the fire station.

Figures Top Post-WW2 Rush-- Rush to Missouri Colleges Toppled Enrollment Records

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The rush to Missouri's colleges this fall has broken over enrollment records at many of the schools.

At some of them the figures far surpass the post-World War II rush to the campuses.

For instance, at Northwest Missouri State College, Maryville is the enrollment figure of 1,217 is an all-time high. Last year the college had an increase of 29 per cent, and this fall a similar increase is shown.

At the Missouri School of Mines at Rolla the registration of 1,900 represents a 32 percent hike over last fall.

"It certainly isn't the wartime birth rate, for that won't hit us for a few years," Ryle said.

He pointed to one factor he said he had noted. It goes back to the World War II GI Bill of Rights.

Under that measure many men, who otherwise would never have had an opportunity, attended college.

Ryle said this had influenced many younger brothers and sisters to attend college.

Korean Veterans comprise a sizable contingent on the college rolls. Hannibal-LaGrange college has 45 of these veterans in a total enrollment of 275.

Officials at the Maryville college noted that students from the farms are on the increase.

Enrollments at the state's three largest universities have not equalled the late 1940's peak, but they are getting closer each year.

The post-war high at the University of Missouri was near 11,500.

It then dwindled until 1953 when the upturn began, 10 percent more enrolling each year. This year's enrollment is about 8,900.

Washington University, which hit a peak of 13,850 in 1948, is opening its doors to about 12,650 students, an increase of 1,650 over 1954. St. Louis University is expecting its final figure to be about 11,000, a 10 percent increase and only about 700 under the post-war peak.

The freshman class at the University of Kansas City is double that of a year ago and the total enrollment in all the University's divisions is up 7 percent over a year ago.

Enrollment at Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau reached 1,613, highest in the history of the college. Ten additional faculty members were employed to take care of the increase.

Records also were eclipsed at the two other state colleges. Southwest Missouri State at Springfield greeted 2,202, nearly 300 more than the peak in 1947. Central Missouri State at Warrensburg hit 1,816,200 better than 1949 high.

Six Persons Are Dead After Head-on Wreck

SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP)—Six persons were killed in the head-on collision near here yesterday of two automobiles.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Fitzsimmons and their daughter Donna Jo, about 4½, all of Salisaw, Okla.; Johnny Littlejohn, 5, Shamrock, Tex.; and Samuel Brabham and Miller Leroy Gaskin.

Brabham and Gaskin were in the same car in which Ferguson Cross was injured. The car bore Connecticut license plates, but the home-towns of the occupants were not immediately known.

State patrolmen said the collision, four miles east of here, occurred when one automobile attempted to pass a truck.

Secretary Operates 34-Ton Dump Truck

CHICAGO (AP)—Pat Moore, 20-year-old Cleveland secretary, may find it rather dull going back to her typewriter.

For the past month, the pretty 5-foot-3 girl has been operating a 436-horsepower, 34-ton Euclid dump truck.

She is one of the performers of the General Motors Powerama, a 23-acre diesel and gas turbine power exhibit in Chicago which closes Sunday.

So far she hasn't dented a fender. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Moore of Cleveland, watched her maneuver the truck last week.

"And to think I didn't trust you with the family car," her father remarked.

Sailor Scared Bus Passengers And the Driver

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A knife-wielding sailor terrorized a bus driver and his 28 other passengers yesterday on a 20-mile ride along the Pennsylvania Turnpike before the driver grabbed a fire ax and subdued him.

The sailor, Robert L. Jones, 23, of Washington, D. C., was held without charge today by police pending action by naval authorities.

The driver, W. E. Small, 50, and four of his passengers required treatment for shock.

Officers gave this version: A short time after the Washington-ton-bound bus had left Pittsburgh, Jones went berserk, shouting that a woman passenger had told him he took her seat. He ran behind Small's seat, pulled a switchblade knife and pressed the point of it against the throat of the startled driver.

"Keep going," he roared at Small.

Finally, Jones ordered Small to pull the bus into the driveway of a restaurant. When the bus stopped, Jones forced the passengers to leave. As they hastily completed, Small grabbed the fire ax, swung menacingly at Jones and cowed the sailor.

State police arrived soon afterwards and took Jones into custody. Jones, a Negro, was reported to have been serving as a cook aboard the USS Wasp, an aircraft carrier.

Name Fits

HIGH LONESOME, N.M. (AP)—The name fits. It's high and its lonesome. Lore and legend of how the place in southern New Mexico got its name has been lost, but operators of the bar and store admit it gets more than just a little lonesome at times—and with the bar, more than a little high.

A recent study shows that the average time it takes to get action on U.S. jury cases in court is 11.4 months.

Families Move In, Move Out

Programs of annexation are being given attention by many towns and cities these days as a result of increases in population, industrial shifts and other growth mechanisms.

Like so many other communities Sedalia's growth has not only been within its own boundaries but around the fringes — particularly westward. So, there's talk of annexations and the spread of city services to new territory.

Currently going the rounds are some statistics published in "Changing Times," which reveal what happens when 100 new families arrive in a medium-size city:

The addition of a hundred new families, to begin with, means about 450 new people, including 100 children, 67 in grammar school, 33 in high school. This calls for 2.2 new rooms in grade school and 1.65 new rooms in high school, which will cost approximately $120,000. Four new teachers will have to be hired. In other words, the 100 families will add approximately $30,000 a year to the average school operating budget.

The city will also need four-fifths of a new employee in the police department and two-thirds of a new fireman, upping the police budget by $4,510 and the fire department budget by $2,820, that is in the medium-size city.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

GOP Chairman Sees No One But Ike

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The usually frank Len Hall was being franker than usual with newsmen the other day in Denver.

Asked how the GOP was going to carry out its threat of defeating Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, the GOP chairman replied:

"We'll attack him for attacking Ike."

Hall went on to explain that few senators had criticized the President and those who did were going to pay for it at election time.

"But suppose Ike doesn't run?" Hall was asked.

"Then I'll commit suicide," replied the chairman of the Republican national committee.

GOP Candidate Insurance

A small but unvocal segment inside the GOP doesn't agree with Mr. Hall about his campaign strategy. While they want Eisenhower to run just as much as he does, they don't believe in betting all their money on one horse. And at Denver some of them quietly but vigorously pointed out that, with the Republican convention being held August 20, the latest day in recent political history, the party could be left dangerously out on a limb.

They also pointed out that the President has already given ample and repeated warning that he does not plan to run again. His first warning came as early as a stag White House dinner in December 1954. Later, talking to Sen. George Bender and other Ohio Republicans, he warned that if he ran he would be the oldest president in history, and he referred to the erosion that wears away any president.

Finally at Denver, Eisenhower repeated his warning that the party must not rely on any one man.

All of this is why a small segment of GOP realists not only disagree with the Ike-or-suicide strategy of their genial GOP chairman but claim that now is the time to take out some candidate insurance.

GOP Potentials

Though they have been kept out of the publicity spotlight by the bright light that shines down on the man in the White House, there happen to be some excellent men in the Republican party. Chief trouble is that the public doesn't know about them. And in these days when the Madison Avenue advertising moguls have been helping popularize Ike and build up Dick, the side-line candidates don't get a break.

However, here are some of the GOP side-liners worth looking over and perhaps warming up before it is too late:

Christian Herter, governor of Massachusetts—After chalking up a notable record in the House of Representatives, Herter has twice been elected governor of the Bay State. Tall, statuesque, he has done a good job as governor, and as a Protestant has been able to win many Catholic votes in a predominantly Catholic state. Attorney General Brownell, recognizing his ability, has been proposing Herter as vice-presidential nominee in place of Nixon. However, he would make a good candidate for the top spot.

J. Goodwin Knight, governor of California — has surprised a lot of people by deserting the GOP reactionaries who originally backed him and following a liberal, middle-of-the-road policy in California. Knight is one of the few Repub-

Guest Editorial—

COLUMBIA MISSOURIAN: Memorial to FDR. We are glad that Congress has finally acted on a plan to build a suitable memorial to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

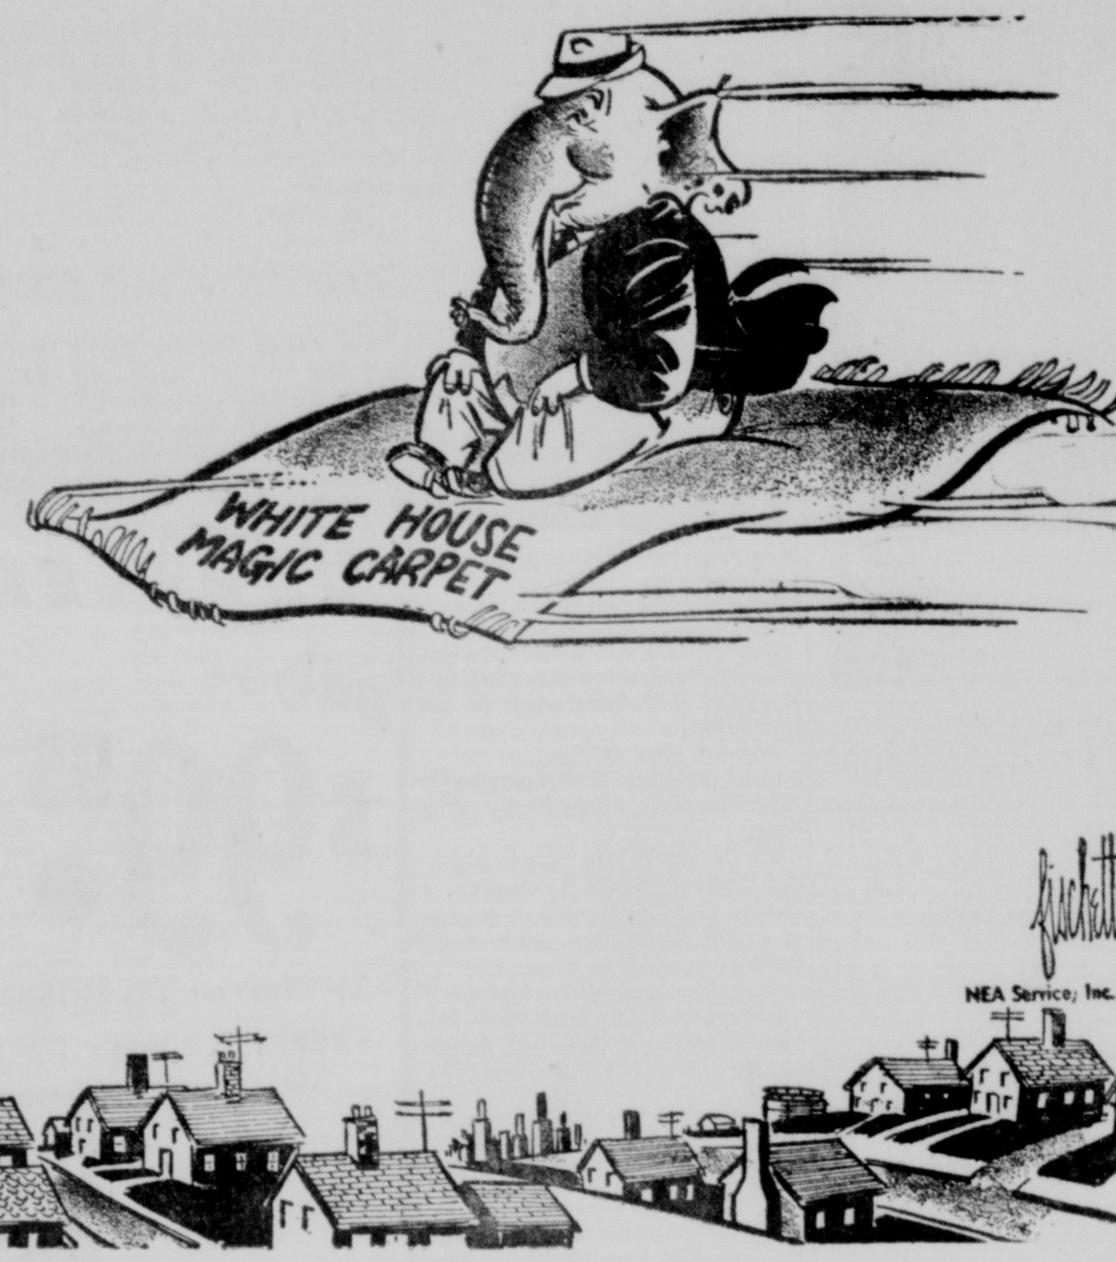

History may not judge his decisions as harshly as some politicians have. Nor is history in the habit of forgetting FDR's many worthwhile contributions.

Political opportunism and close isolationism have combined, to attack everything the ex-President did, or attempted to do. And yet to many of our allies, FDR stood for many of the things they liked about America.

A calmer atmosphere and a more tolerant outlook will make some of the hysterical accusations of the past few years seem ridiculous. A memorial to Roosevelt will not mean an approval of all his policies.

But it is a sign that he will be remembered.

The World Today—

Republican Chiefs Taking Big Gamble

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON — Republican party chiefs are taking the big gamble. They are planning for the 1956 presidential campaign on the assumption that President Eisenhower will agree to seek a second term.

Actually, Republican leaders are ignoring Eisenhower's advice. They are nailing their flag securely to the Eisenhower mast while planning to capitalize on his personal popularity and the theme of "peace and prosperity."

Under these circumstances, it will place the Republicans on a fearfully embarrassing spot should Eisenhower not choose to run.

Those who think he won't make a second race put up this argument: Eisenhower is now 64. He may want to turn the job over to a younger man and retire to his Gettysburg farm, where he can enjoy the last years of his life. They also say Mrs. Eisenhower has had enough of the White House and doesn't want the President to shorten his life with another four years of the crushing burden of the presidency.

But on the other side, they argue

Eisenhower has a high sense of duty and that his duty is to remain in the White House another four years to carry out the program he has begun. They argue Ike won't let the party down and that he enjoys his job as well as the political game.

In the midst of such uncertainty, the Republican chiefs appear confident they know their man and what he will do at the proper time. One of them said: "We think we know our candidate — and the Democrats don't. This gives us an advantage in planning the campaign."

L. Richard Guylay, GOP publicity chief, says: "The national committee is proceeding on the assumption that President Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate."

After the recent meeting of GOP state chairmen in Denver, some party leaders weren't so sure. Eisenhower warned them not to nail their flag so securely to one mast that if the ship sank, they wouldn't rip it off and tie it to another.

But GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall listened to everything the President had to say — and then announced he was more convinced than ever that Eisenhower would again head the ticket.

Boone and his companions were taken to Governor Hamilton in Detroit. "You are my prisoners," said Blackfish to Boone.

After plucking all his hair, save for a scalp lock, Indians adopted Boone into the Shawnee tribe as Sheltowee, "Big Turtle." Blackfish was Dan'l's sponsor.

Boone continued trying to persuade the British to use humane tactics against Kentucky pioneers.

"Hair Buyer" Hamilton laughed at him. "The Indians," he said, "believe scalps are less troublesome than live prisoners."

Yachtless President May Borrow Sequoia If In Need

By ESTHER VAN WAGONER TUTTY
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The President isn't minus the use of a yacht to take distinguished visitors for a cruise down the Potomac just because he decided the Williamsburg was "a symbol of needless luxury."

He can borrow the not-so young but trim 104 foot Sequoia, officially assigned to the Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas, who isn't apt to say "no" to the President. But he's not asked yet altho he did give a dinner on it when he was Supreme Allied Commander of Europe.

The Sequoia was the presidential yacht for Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Navy Secretary is generous and his immediate boss Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson likes the privacy of the yacht for entertaining VIPs. Secretary of Army Wilber Brucker is now at "the yacht borrowing level" and Mrs. Brucker likes the cruise down the river very much. "All we have to do is furnish the food," Mrs. Brucker explains.

She likes to be aboard before sunset to take part in an impressive ceremony which is traditional on the ship. When the Navy yacht arrives at Mount Vernon, she anchors, the crew and guests "man the rail" and honors are rendered at George Washington's home and tomb. While the ship's bell tolls, over the loud speaker is played a recording of a bugler sounding taps and the national anthem.

Since the ship is not a combat craft she is not painted the traditional battleship gray but white with green on the overheads and decks.

Altho Secretary Thomas doesn't use the yacht for over night cruises, there are five staterooms and three baths and eight guests can sleep comfortably. The chief steward, Aurelio Almon, has been on board the Sequoia for more than 15 years and has known every Secretary of the Navy since Claude Swanson. He's put on parties for King Zog of Albania, the Presidents of Chile and Brazil.

The favorite menus served? It's a toss up between the specialty of curry or prime roast of beef. No matter what the meat course, orange biscuits are served at every party.

Navy china and silver — with two, three or four stars, depending on the rank of the host — are always used.

Missouri U. Clashes Against Michigan Tomorrow In Teams' First Encounter

Oklahoma Expected To Stretch Wins To 20 Straight

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Representatives of the Big Seven Conference, able to salvage only one victory out of four in football games with the neighboring Big Ten last year, face even more dismal results this season.

Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas State are expected to be the Big Ten victims tomorrow with Iowa State falling prey to Illinois on Oct. 1. Iowa State bowed to Northwestern 27-14 last fall.

Missouri, which beat Indiana 20-14 last year and lost 31-0 to Purdue, meets Michigan, No. 4 in the AP weekly poll.

On the basis of Missouri's 13-12 loss to Maryland last week, the Tigers appear to have the best chance of surprising the experts. It is the first meeting for the two teams. The game is at Ann Arbor, Mich.

Kansas State, which dropped its opener to Wyoming, plays Iowa at Iowa City. Coach Bus Mertes says, "we were ragged and maybe not in top physical condition for the opener. But some good can come from the whipping we took. Everybody needs a few knocks and we got ours early. We are thin, but we have the makings of a good ball team."

The Wildcats encountered Iowa once before, in 1951, and emerged on the short end 16-0.

Nebraska, upset 6-0 by Hawaii last week will attempt a comeback against Ohio State but the nation's No. 6 team playing its opener before a home audience at Columbus is not expected to give the Huskers an opportunity.

Nebraska lost a 19-7 decision to the Big Ten's Minnesota last year.

Three other Big Seven clubs will also see action tomorrow.

Oklahoma's third ranked Sooners are at North Carolina where they are expected to stretch their unbeaten string to 20 straight games.

The last loss suffered to Oklahoma was a 28-21 decision to Notre Dame in the 1953 opener. Pittsburgh battled the Sooners to a 7-7 tie in the second game of 1953 and from there on Oklahoma has been on top.

The Sooners have won 47 consecutive Big Seven games and scored in their last 95 games for a new national record. Another item to consider, Oklahoma has not yielded a touchdown on the ground in its last 31 quarters.

The game with North Carolina marks the first time the two teams have met since Oklahoma scored a 14-6 victory over the Tar Heels in the 1949 Sugar Bowl.

Colorado, opening its season at Boulder, should have an easy time with Arizona. Coach Dal Ward figures to have his best team since coming to the Buffaloes in 1948. Colorado had a 7-2-1 season last year.

Kansas faces its 18th straight loss, longest losing streak in the school's history and currently the longest in the nation among major colleges.

The Jayhawks will be host to Washington State at Lawrence. Both teams dropped their opening games. Washington State 50-12 at Southern California and Kansas 47-14 at TCU.

Iowa State doesn't play this week.

The physical condition of all teams was described as generally good with only one or two starters in question.

Missouri, Kansas State and Nebraska will fly to the site of their games today. Oklahoma flew into Durham, N.C., yesterday for a practice and has a brief session scheduled today.

Marciano Back In Action Next June...

'Champ' Looks For New Victims As Moore Clamors For Rematch

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be zoomed back into the picture by stopping England's Don Cockell in action next June. The possible victim include Cuba's Nino Valdes, hulking Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York or Floyd Patterson, the once-beaten Olympic champion of Brooklyn.

The invincible Brockton Blaster having earned half a million dollars for his ninth-round knockout of Archie Moore in a spectacular brawl Wednesday night, has decided to go after a few more helpers.

Manager Al Weill, in naming Valdes, Baker, Jackson and Patterson as possible June opponents, said also he had received an offer for Rocky to box Italy's Franco Caviglioni, Europe's heavyweight champion, in Italy. There's not a chance Weill will permit Rocky to risk his crown outside the United States.

Jackson, a freakish fighter with unlimited stamina, could barge his way into the spot. A nonstop puncher but lacking in power, the 23-year-old, 6-2, 195-pounder has won eight straight since he was stopped in two rounds by Valdes 14 months ago.

In announcing his decision to keep fighting, the 31-year-old Marciano told newsmen at a press conference, "I have no thought of retiring at the present time."

Explaining his postfight statements in the Yankee Stadium dressing room, Rocky declared, "All I said last night was that a few people would like me to stop, a few friends."

Think Insults About a Fat Man Based Solely On Envy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If men suddenly fell from heaven, half the men in America would be afraid to taste it.

They are on a diet — and manna might have too many calories.

I'm in that fix myself right now. Again I am a cowardly marshmallow, a fat man without the courage to stay that way. Like millions of other overweight fraidy-cats, I am on a diet.

And I wonder why. What's the use? As best I can figure it, I am now on my 40th diet in 10 years.

"If you want to stay healthy, keep in shape," warn the doctors, many of whom it will be noted, however, prefer themselves to match the silhouette of an Idaho potato.

Yeh, but what shape? I now go on a diet four times a year — everytime my weight hits a plump 200 pounds. In two months I am back down to 175. Then food ceases to be just another nasty four-letter word, and I start eating normally again. In exactly another month I'm crowding the old 200-pound level again, and the old starvation routine must begin again.

Why? Merely because I have let myself become a social potted plant, a craven sycophant to the present ridiculous crowd theory that blubber is a handicap.

Let 'em go tell that to a whale. He'd laugh 'em right out of the water.

In the broad-minded world of nature there is more tolerance than in the human realm. There is room for the giraffe as well as the mole, the gazelle as well as the elephant. Each has his own shape, and they don't kid each other. Even a lion won't poke fun at the elephant. He knows better.

Play Safe

on the highway
this week-end

Keep alert while you drive — chew gum!

Alert drivers are safe drivers. Avoid drowsiness and driving jitters. Chew gum while you're behind the wheel. Chewing helps relieve strain and tension — helps keep you fresh and alert.

Chew any brand you

Why, then, should human elephants have to take so much guff and nonsense from the human gazelles, who have to stand twice in the same place to throw a shadow? What virtue is there in looking like a thermometer every time you swallow a glass of pink lemonade?

The old aim of man was to be fat and sassy. The goal now is to be skinny and leering.

Personally, I think the barrage of insults against the fat man is based on nothing but envy. A thin man loves company in his misery, and the mere sight of a fat man waddling contentedly and serenely through life drives him wild.

"You don't eat so much because you're happy," he suggests evilly to the fat man. "You eat because you're unhappy. You're worried. You're sick, sick, sick!"

How long are we fat people going to put up with this bluster from the gazelle herds? Why don't we organize into a society. Wouldn't you like to become a PUFF — a member of the Proud Order of Fat Folks?

We could start off by declaring a worldwide "Year of the Fat Man." During that year any beanpole-shaped heckler who yiped, "Aren't you putting on weight?" would be promptly sat upon and forced to eat a gallon of mashed beans.

Anyway, the idea offers food for reflection. And right now that's the only kind on my 40th diet — food that makes you reflect less in a mirror.

Her Lipstick Survives Year Below Water

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A year ago Mrs. Donald H. Bopp went swimming in the Magic Reservoir. While diving out of a boat she tipped the craft over. Her purse, money and lipstick fell into 40 feet of water.

Last week she revisited Magic Reservoir.

The water level was low because there had been little rain this summer. It was so low, in fact, she spied the missing items half-buried in the mud.

She said the purse was rotted, the paper money in shreds (she didn't say how much), the silver money blackened—but the lipstick was as good as new.

Car Thefts Drop Off After Request to Stop

DETROIT (AP) — The director of Chicago's Crime Prevention Bureau described a technique that cut sharply a wave of car thefts by juveniles.

"We just asked them to stop it," said Dr. Lois Higgins.

"We appealed to their intelligence and sense of fair play," Dr. Higgins told the Michigan Probation, Prison and Parole Assn. yesterday.

"We sent officials to assemblies in the schools. We felt the children had considered taking cars something of a lark and didn't realize the full consequences."

The approach worked, Dr. Higgins said.

Dodges 'Icebox' Title

CADILLAC, Mich. (AP) — Cadillac hopes to lose its unwanted distinction of being "Michigan's icebox." Temperature reports will be read this winter at the Consumers Power Co. pumping station on Lake Cadillac instead of at the city airport, where residents say it's from 5 to 10 degrees colder.

Doctors Say Johnson Is Making Progress

TEMPEL, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at Scott and White Memorial Hospitals said yesterday that Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) is making very satisfactory progress. He suffered a heart attack this summer. The Senate majority leader flew here for an examination and left immediately for his home at Johnson City, Tex.

PINKY LEE WILL DO PROMISED TV SHOW

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Pinky Lee, the little guy with the checkered coat and the lisp, says he'll be back before television cameras today, just four days after he collapsed from nervous exhaustion.

Ordered to rest by doctors, Lee said he was doing the special show to keep a promise to the North Hollywood Kiwanis Club in honor of Kiwanis-sponsored National Kids Day.

The comedian will be host to 500 children from San Fernando, Calif., and the show will be filmed for his national NBC program Saturday.

Lee then plans to rest until next Thursday, when he will resume his daily TV schedule.

AIR POLLUTION MAY BE BASIS OF WARM-UP

NEW YORK (AP) — Air pollution is accused of many things — choking city residents, souring tourists, stunting flower gardens, unravelling stockings.

Now there's talk that dirty air may be the secret of the apparent warming up of the world's climate in recent years.

More than 100 laboratories are working on specific phases of the pollution problem. Oil industry scientists, for example, have brought out a new gadget for measuring and identifying impurities in the air. They hope to find out how auto exhausts, wastes from burning rubbish, fumes from industrial smokestacks react to other things in the air.

Factories are installing more and more equipment to hold down air pollution. Cities debate complex and expensive schemes for clearing out smog pockets.

Besides the toll in human comfort, air pollution costs untold sums in property damage.

Now, Dr. John G. Hutton of General Electric's engineering laboratory in Schenectady, N. Y., says all this bad air may be "having a greenhouse effect on our climate."

The industrial scientist charges that man is "contaminating the earth's atmosphere faster than nature can clean it." This pollution pumps up a belt of carbon dioxide encircling the earth which acts like a blanket—or a green house.

The idea that the dirty air is having a greenhouse effect and warming up the climate will be studied, Dr. Hutton says, by many scientists during the International Geophysical Year in 1958.

Henry M. Margolis, president of Schmiegs Industries, a Detroit producer of industrial equipment for removing dust and fumes, says the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare plans to work with groups set up in individual communities throughout the nation to seek a unified approach toward the growing air pollution menace.

The scientists say if they can find out what really happens in the air they may in time find a way to eliminate air pollution.

Maybe then we'll get our old climate back.

JURY DOESN'T INFLICT ANYONE IN ALLEGED THREATS AGAINST NEGRO

TAHOKA, Tex. (AP) — The Lynn County grand jury failed to indict anyone in alleged threats against a 16-year-old Negro student attending Tahoka's formerly all-white school.

The jury said its probe included damage to three new automobiles owned by the school board president, possibly in revenge for the board's allowing Andrew Nance to go to the white school.

Grand jury foreman J. B. Reasor, in his report, said the jury spent considerable time probing young Nance's report that he had been threatened with personal harm if he continued to attend the school where his white classmates had elected him vice president of the junior class.

The report added:

"We find no evidence of actual physical violence against the person of any individual." It also expressed confidence in local law enforcement officers and Lynn County citizens.

OVER-HONEST PATRONS BOOST UMBRELLA STOCK

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Stationmaster Taro Matsumoto gave up smoking and with the savings bought 20 umbrellas for loan without charge or signature to rail passengers caught in sudden showers.

Passengers returned the umbrellas so diligently that Matsumoto now has 36.

Says Cigarette Tax, If Passed, Is Insufficient

JEFFERSON CITY — The Missouri Public Expenditure Survey says the 1957 Legislature will have to dig up more than $43 million in new tax revenues—even if a proposed cigarette tax is approved.

A two-cents a package cigarette tax, estimated to raise about $9 million a year, goes before the voters in a special referendum election Oct. 4. The tax was proposed to help finance a new "foundation plan" for schools which will be before the voters the same day.

The foundation plan, if fully financed, would raise state aid to schools from $45 million to about $67 million a year.

The Legislature already has appropriated more than $102 million as state aid for schools—3% of the state's general revenue. But that, plus cigarette tax proceeds, would still leave the total almost $11 million short of complete financing, the survey said.

In addition, the taxpayers' organization said, it must be assumed the Legislature will appropriate at least as much next time for other state services.

And that, the survey figured, plus the amount needed for the foundation plan, would leave the legislators with the job of finding new tax revenue amounting to $43,669 a year.

American, Red Chinese Envoys Meet Again Over Repatriation

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Ping-nan of Communist China held their 17th meeting today.

A communiqué said they "exchanged information," in the two-hour talk, on the repatriation of civilians and "exchanged views" on future discussion of other issues.

Wang has been trying to start talks on the lifting of the U. S. trade embargo against Red China and a possible conference between Red Chinese Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai and U. S. Secretary of State Dulles.

Johnson is understood to have declined to go into the political and economic issues until his government feels Peiping is really going ahead with its promise to release all American civilians detained in China. So far only 9 of 41 known there have crossed the Chinese border, although several more are due to leave Shanghai soon by ship.

Cities Service Firm Wants Annual Increase In Wholesale Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cities Service Gas Co. of Oklahoma says a $3,935,601 annual increase in rates it charges its wholesale natural gas customers in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

The company applied to the Federal Power Commission yesterday for permission to make the increase effective Oct. 23.

It is the second rate boost sought by the company in 18 months. An increase of 12½ million dollars annually was requested March 23, 1954. FPC has not made a final ruling on that application.

In Kansas City, Ben C. Adams, president of the Gas Service Co., said the new application made yesterday.

Scottish Rite Club Hears KC Attorney

Sam Molby, Kansas City attorney, was the speaker at the banquet meeting of the Sedalia Scottish Rite Club Thursday night which was held at the Smithson Methodist Church. "Masonry and Education" was the subject chosen by Molby, who divided his talk into three parts: First, academic education, the schools of today; second, education in morals, and third, education of self.

In the first part of his talk the speaker pointed out that one of the finest things in our country was when the law was passed for compulsory education. But, he warned, the nation is faced with greater and greater problems. In ten more years there will be an increase of enrollment in elementary schools of 40 per cent more children.

There is steady increase of more children but not more teachers. Another problem, he said, is in 15 years there will be twice as many college students.

There is not only a quantity problem but also a quality problem, and under some of the teachers young people are coming out poorly equipped with the three R's. There is first a need for physical housing and second for teachers who are qualified. Scottish Rite Masonry stands for good schools and education and it is this the organization must get back of.

Of the second phase, moral education, Molby said, there is another problem. There are too many sexual cases, too many young people who do not have the morals they should have. A good man expresses himself in his daily living but too often we fail to see these good men in our midst. The most valuable thing in life is time and time never stands still. This precious thing men give to Scottish Rite because it enriches their lives. It is the Scottish Rite Masons who should help in the building of morals of the young.

The third thing, education of self, the speaker brought out in telling of two men in their mid-fifties who had recently come to his office. They both had been very successful in their small businesses, they were both in good health, but they wanted to give it all up. The struggle with employees and with the business was causing them to want to quit—men in their mid-fifties wanting to quit, he said. He said he looked around at men he knew who were getting up in years, who still were active and happy, many with much less money. These men who wanted to give up and didn't know where they were headed were not Scottish Rite Masons, he said. If they had been they wouldn't have been as they were. Scottish Rite teaches not only of this life but of the next and they are never afraid.

The meeting was presided over by Oma Cox, president of the Scottish Rite Club, who welcomed the many guests from Kansas City, LaMonte and Sedalia. All four bodies in Masonry were represented by officers from Kansas City at the meeting, the lodge, the chapter, the consistory and the council.

Invocation was given by Curtis Schupbach.

A musical program was presented by Don Wells, Sedalia, and Richard Johnson, Warrensburg, students at CMSC.

The centerpiece for the speaker's table was an arrangement of yellow and white roses and daisies and dahlias were used on the other tables.

Many Attend Farm, Home Dinner Meet

Forty-five folks representing 19 families attended the Farm and Home Planning dinner meeting on Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, at the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

Mrs. John Silsby, Cedar town, gave a report of the Farm and Home Planning discussion meeting which she attended at the Springfield district advisory conference this month. Mrs. Silsby explained how the new county extension council could help forward the Farm and Home Planning Association. She brought out that the council should be aware that Farm and Home Planning is a part of the overall extension program in any county.

Cliff Meeker, farm management specialist of the University of Missouri, discussed some of the different phases of farm management.

It was pointed out that on every farm there are three factors of production. They are land, labor and capital. Land is a timeless factor as it doesn't change very rapidly. Labor is supplied by the farm family and changes at least every generation. Capital is the factor that varies the greatest of the three. There is a direct relationship between these factors and the progress of the farm business.

Farming is a long time proposition and is based upon average figures; therefore, in planning the overall operations and in estimating yields, costs, and so on, one should use average figures rather than using extremes.

The members decided to continue having a meeting of this nature each month during the winter months and that one of the groups be responsible for planning the program and serving as hostess. The Longwood group will be in charge of the October meeting.

W. C. Corlew, Lake Creek township, presided over the meeting.

Moose Women Hear Rau Speak Tues.

Chris Rau, Jr., staff member of KSIS, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Women of the Moose on Tuesday night. The occasion was Publicity Chapter Night and Mrs. Leo Robb, publicity chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Rau gave a very interesting and informative talk on "The Art of Promotion," using the radio station as an example. He told of its beginning, the hard work required to establish and sell the station services in the highly competitive field of advertising and finally the sense of accomplishment and pride those who worked for it have in the station now.

The members of the Moose organization were encouraged to do likewise, in building up memberships by generating enthusiasm for the ideals and purposes of the Loyalty order of the Moose and acquainting others with these aims and objectives.

During the business meeting presided over by the senior regent, Mrs. Garnet Starkey, a benefit card party was discussed, and plans made for it.

Mrs. Marie Robb, chairman of the ice cream social held recently, reported that more than $50 was netted from the social.

Also approved was a motion to allow any member who cared to attend the state convention to be held in St. Joseph during November five dollars for each day in attendance.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed by the 20 members present. Refreshments were served at tables attractively decorated in the fall motif. A centerpiece of driftwood and autumn leaves with individual favors of very real looking painter palettes. The paint pots were varied colored flat mints and a tiny brush completed the arrangement. Mrs. Leo Robb and her committee, Mrs. Larry Riley, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. John Ellison, Mrs. Roy Head and Mrs. Robb Whitley were in charge of the program and refreshments.

Lightning Fires Tank Of Monsanto Chemicals

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Lightning ignited a tank containing about 10 million gallons of benzol at the Monsanto Chemical Co. plant south of here about midnight last night and it took some six hours to put out the blaze.

There were no injuries reported.

Officials at the firm's Krummrich plant in nearby Monsanto said the blaze was extinguished with a foamite, a chemical fire-fighting fluid. Firemen from Monsanto and Cahokia assisted the firm's fire department in fighting the blaze.

The tank, about 40 feet tall and 120 feet in diameter, was surrounded by earthen dikes and the flames did not threaten other buildings on the 171-acre area of the plant.

Benzol is a raw material the firm uses in the manufacture of other chemicals.

There was no immediate estimate on the amount of damage.

Judy Garland On Eve of TV Show Has Laryngitis

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Judy Garland, who makes her television debut tomorrow night in a $300,000 show, is nursing laryngitis today.

CBS-TV may be a little worried, but Judy isn't. In a voice that sounded as if she might be Andy Devine's sister, Judy explained:

"I always get laryngitis as opening night nears. Just nerves. That's all it is. No germ involved. It'll go away as soon as I get in front of the audience, I hope. If not, I'll just sing over it."

Judy's debut will be an impressive one. She kicks off the network's Ford Star Jubilee, a once-a-month blockbuster that will number Bing Crosby among its stars in future productions.

David Wayne will costar with Judy on the color telecast. For the Broadway and Hollywood star, the billing is an unusually welcome one.

"It's the first time," Wayne told a reporter, "that I have ever played opposite a feminine star shorter than I. Imagine not having to act while standing on my tiptoes."

Judy is making her TV fling the hard way—she'll sing 16 songs, some sort of a record. In addition, she has to speak some Japanese. She does a skit with Mitsuwa Samamura, Tokyo songstress.

"I just know I'll goof that Japanese pronunciation and probably get us cut off the air," Judy said, laughing.

Lions Shown Two Movies On Telephones

TWO MOTION PICTURES were shown to the Sedalia Lions Club at their regular meeting Wednesday by Cecil Wyett of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. One of the pictures was that on the organization and operation of the telephone company and the other was a picture on the handling of TV radio programs through the cables of the telephone company.

Al Zurcher, program chairman for the meeting, introduced Wyett.

Oklahoma Family Gets Gasoline From Well

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Free—all the gasoline you can drink.

That's the situation in which the C. A. Webb family finds itself. Webb's private water well is producing quantities of almost pure gasoline.

Webb says he believes the gasoline is escaping from an oil field pipeline and seeping into the well. But he hasn't been able to find the source thus far.

The gasoline showed up in the water Aug. 4, Webb said. It increased to the point where water drawn through faucets would flash and burn briefly when ignited.

A neighbor is supplying the family with water.

No other tube can give you the advantages of SEIBERLING Sealed-Air. Only Seiberling Sealed-Air Tubes have Bulkheads, because this principle was perfected and patented by Seiberling. Cigaret Tax Hike Insufficient—

Legislature To Have To Find New Tax Revenues For 1957

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 22.—(P) Even if a proposed two-cent a package tax on cigarettes is approved by the voters, and even if present taxes bring in more money—the 1957 Legislature "will have to find substantial new tax revenues."

The estimated new revenue needed is more than $43 million.

This conclusion was reached today in a study by the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, a taxpayers' organization. It is supporting both the cigarette tax proposal and a new "foundation plan" for schools at a special referendum election Oct. 4.

Urging voters to look at the fiscal facts of life, the Survey said that even if the cigarette tax is approved by the voters, the $9 million a year it is expected to bring in can't be collected until after next Jan. 1.

$9 Million To Allot Funds

The Survey estimated the $9 million would finance the new method of distributing school funds only on the basis of a little more than 90 per cent.

If the foundation program is not fully financed, school officials have said some districts will get less state aid than they received now. The entire program is calculated to cost state aid from $45 to $67 million a year.

The Survey based its study on the assumption that other state services will require at least as much as the 1955 Legislature appropriated. Actually, these appropriations have been increasing at a rate of more than $34 million each two years.

Must Scrape Up $43 Million

Here's how the Survey reached the figure of more than $43 million as the amount of new tax revenue the next Legislature will have to scrape up:

The 1955 Legislature appropriated a total of nearly $195 million, a record. That was over $234 million more than current taxes and fees are expected to produce in the next two years. The deficit was made up by eating into the state's surplus.

The appropriations included more than $102 million as state aid for public schools—3% of the state's general revenue.

But if the foundation plan is approved by the voters, the state aid cost will be $131 million, or almost $29 million less than the amount the Legislature has appropriated.

Cigaret Tax Would Fall Short

If the cigarette tax is adopted, the total would still be more than $10 million short of enough to finance the foundation plan fully.

The last Legislature also took $5.4 million from the postwar reserve fund for state aid to county roads and another $3.2 million from postwar funds for state aid for new buildings in reorganized school districts. These are regular allotments and they cut the re-

A Find By Public Health Service—Announce Simple Color Test For Easy Tumor Detection

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(P)—The Public Health Service today announced a simple color test which it said makes easy the detection of a tumor associated with a variety of diseases, including asthma.

The tumor is known as a metastatic carcinoma, which originates in the small intestine and spreads to other abdominal organs particularly the liver.

The announcement said the tumor originates in tissues which normally produce small quantities of a substance called serotonin.

With the tremendous increase in serotonin-producing tissues which constitutes development of the tumor, many times the normal amount of serotonin is produced and discharged into the blood.

This new test is a technique for determining this abnormal over-production of serotonin. It was developed and applied by Dr. Albert Sjoerdsema, Herbert Weissbach and Dr. Sidney Udenfriend of the National Heart Institute.

Required for the test, which can be run in a few minutes, are a

Predicts Cold War Will End

Foresees Peace Because Of Geneva Conference, Other Late Developments

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 22.—(P)—Secretary of State Dulles predicted today the cold war may be ended because of the Geneva summit conference and other recent developments. He called for an era of peaceful change during which governments will renounce the use of war and subversion.

In his annual policy address to the U. N. General Assembly, Dulles stood firm on the broad lines of U. S. policy such as the unification of Germany and resistance by the free world to international communism. But his tone was moderate and he said a new spirit prevails in the world as a consequence of the meeting at Geneva.

Molotov Applauds Dulles

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov who has thrown considerably in recent months, joined applause for Dulles. Molotov, who speaks tomorrow, will team with Dulles and the foreign ministries of Britain and France in Geneva Oct. 27 in a conference which will disclose in some degree how far the Geneva spirit extends.

"The summit meeting, if it is to be historic rather than episodic, must usher in an era of peaceful change," Dulles said. "It will not be an era of placidity and stagnancy, in the sense that the status quo, as with manifold injustices, is accepted as permanent. It will be an era of change, and it will have its strains and its stresses. But peoples and governments will renounce the use of war and subversion to achieve their goals.

They will accept orderly evolution toward the realization of legitimate national aspirations. They will develop wider economic intercourse among themselves. They will increasingly respect human rights and fundamental freedoms. And human effort will be dedicated to what is creative and benign.

"The United Nations too will change. Given good will and mutual confidence, many provisions of the charter will gain new meaning and new vitality.

"Let us strive together to begin these changes so that when we have our meeting at the 20th session here we will look back on the decade which is now beginning and call it the healing decade of true peace."

Dulles was the first big power delegate to speak as the general debate opened in the Assembly.

In this debate each chief delegate has the opportunity to outline his government's views on the world situation.

Opposes West Recognition Of E.Germany

Wednesday between 4 and 5 p.m., wind of tornadic intensity struck the vicinity southwest of Fortuna, causing considerable damage to farm buildings. No injuries were reported but telephone and electrical service was interrupted.

The two-story farm house of L.

M. Schollmeyer, a mile southeast of the town, was extensively damaged and a chicken house and shed demolished. The Schollmeyers live in St. Louis and occupy the residence only occasionally and it was reported no one was at the place when the wind moved in with a sudden blast.

Further on at the Marvin Sanders farm a 60-foot shed attached to the side of a barn was swept away and carried to a roadway. There limbs were torn from trees and other minor damage resulted.

At the Ray Homan farm a front porch on the residence was damaged, hog sheds upset and a chimney wrecked.

Lightning struck a barn at the farm of "Dimple" Chism and the barn was destroyed in a fire that ensued. This was west of the other farms on which damage was caused. Damage also resulted to corn which was reaching harvest stage.

Adenauer Says It Would Be Unfriendly Act To W. Germany

BONN, Germany, Sept. 22.—(P)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer notified Western and neutral powers today that recognition of East Germany's Communist government would be "an unfriendly act" to the West German republic.

In a major foreign policy address to Parliament, Adenauer declared the Soviet Union's announcement this week of sovereignty for East Germany "does not change anything."

'Has No Democratic Basis'

"The Soviet zone regime does not possess any democratic basis, has no sovereignty and there can be no question of recognizing it," he said.

"I must state unequivocally that my government will regard as an unfriendly act the establishment of diplomatic relations with the East German Democratic Republic because this would tend to aggravate the partition of Germany."

He firmly restated his contention that the Bonn government is "the only freely and lawfully established German government which alone is entitled to speak for the whole of Germany."

Violation Of 1949 Big 4 Accord

The Chancellor said Russia's transfer to the East German government of control over the life-line highway to West Berlin violates the 1949 Big Four agreement ending the Soviet blockade.

He sent notes to the United States, Britain and France asking that they publicly define again their attitude to the East Berlin Communist government, which has been recognized by the Soviet Union and its satellites for years.

The West German notes asked new pledges that the Western Powers will not change their policy of nonrecognition and that they will uphold their special position in isolated Berlin.

Adenauer's actions reflected official concern here that the Russians will try to maneuver the West at the Big Four conference in Geneva next month into swapping recognition of two German states for a relaxation in the arms race.

A description of the work done by the three scientists is published in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Assn.

The announcement said that diseased heart valves, asthma, "waterlogged" body tissues, diarrhea, and strange irregular bursts of changing skin color, or flushes, characterize the illness associated with the tumor.

It added that in those symptoms the illness may mimic, among other things, rheumatic heart disease, allergies, primary liver disease, dysentery, and "change of life."

Strange Offer Made By Defendant In Court

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 22.—(P)—Some strange offers are made by defendants in court.

In the court of Magistrate Margaret Young yesterday Oliver Wendell Mullins, Butte, Mont., was accused of reckless driving. State highway patrolmen said he had been drinking some wine.

Mullins pleaded guilty and made his bid for freedom.

The magistrate was unimpressed. She fined Mullins $25 and when he couldn't pay, she sent him to jail.

$5,000 Asked For Ransom In Kidnaping

Believed To Be Hoax; Intense Search For Baby

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(P)

A $5,000 ransom demand, threatening death, struck a new blow today at the agonized parents of 5-day-old baby Robert Marcus, kidnaped Monday from Mt. Zion Hospital.

The ransom note, mailed in Oakland, was believed by police to be a cruel hoax by an outside criminal. The baby's father, Dr. Sanford Marcus, took a package as directed to an Oakland rendezvous early today, but no taken appeared.

New Clues In San Jose, Frisco

The intense police search continued, with interest centered on new clues in San Jose, 50 miles south of San Francisco. The prevailing theory continued to be that the Marcus infant was snatched from his hospital crib by a woman with a frustrated mother love motive.

The stricken mother, Hanna Marcus, 29, who gave birth to the baby, her third, on Saturday, was kept under sedatives and fed intravenously at the hospital. Her condition "remains poor," doctors said.

The latest San Jose clues were reports of a woman's attempt to steal diapers from a clothesline there, and of one seen walking in the same neighborhood before dawn, holding a baby. She was believed to have slept in a parked car whose owners later found in it a label from a bottle of baby formula sweetening.

House-To-House Check

San Jose mobilized its entire police force to conduct the same kind of house-to-house check which has been in progress in San Francisco. They even called in students of the police training school at San Jose State College.

Aussies Contribute To Eastern Flood Relief

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(P)—Australia today contributed $50,000 to the Red Cross eastern states flood relief fund. Richard G. Casey, Australian foreign minister, presented a check from his government. It is in addition to donations from individual Australians and the Australian Junior Red Cross.

The jury which heard the case referred about 2:30 p.m. Thursday and returned its not guilty verdict shortly after 3 o'clock.

Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick called to the stand the girl, her grandmother and Dr. A. R. Maddox, who examined the girl in the Pettis County Circuit Court before Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, Thursday.

The girl testified that Cooper picked her up in his car shortly before sunset, drove west on Main and then turned right on a black-top road, but she couldn't say how far out on the road they traveled.

Cooper testified that he picked the girl up, drove around for about a half-hour and let her out on the north side unharmed.

Dr. Maddox said that from his examination at about 10:30 p.m. that same day that some sort of sexual relations had occurred not more than three or four hours before the examination, but it could have been only a few minutes before. He said there was no positive indication of intercourse. The examination took place at Hospital No. 2. Dr. Maddox testified further that it was his belief, based upon his examination, that the girl had previous relations.

William McGee, 1618 South Ingram, superintendent of special roads, was called to the stand at one point in an effort to determine whether the alleged offense occurred in Pettis County.

Defense attorney for Cooper was William F. Brown.

Talks Made On Better Books For Children

Homakers Furniture Store Has Artistic Style and Color Layouts

Everything for gracious and casual living may be found at Homaker's Furniture Store, 214 West Main.

The often heard statement that the dining room is going out of the picture makes one wonder when they see the beautiful solid maple dining room furniture complete in the Homaker's window. In the popular ranch home of today, the Early American correlated group fits in perfectly either with the living-dining room idea or with the separate dining room area. The louvered door on the hutch, the graceful round table or other types, the Welch cabinet and the server base—with these a dining room is always a place of real charm.

And what of the living room? Colors run rampant as well as styles and fabrics. Beige and brown are very good this fall, and so are pastels. The pink of spring has deepened to near the old-fashioned rose shade. There are lower backs to suit better the smaller homes, but they are still high enough to be comfortable. The arms are low and flat. Cushions are made of a wide variety of materials, many with foam rubber and some with spring steel. One new style is of foam rubber molded to a higher rounded edge that comes up under the knees for greater comfort. The nubby textured materials are good—rayon, wool, cotton or nylon—and one has been treated so that water will not penetrate. Any type of liquid that is spilled on it may be wiped up. This does not, however, take care of grease spots.

There is lots of glitter with gold and silver threads in the background of the materials, and there are different patterns in the same shades.

For the living room, too, are plastic top tables with marble effigy stand up to 275 degrees heat. The feet that are washable and will legs are black with brass tips, and plastic tops are also in oak or white.

The living room furniture comes also in three-piece, curved sectionals and two-piece sectionals that work well in placing in the smaller homes as well as large homes. This type of furniture has become popular because of televisions, along with the swivel chair, which also comes in the small occasional type. These chairs are in the same shades as the other living room furniture and in many different fabrics.

For the den there is a pretty set of wrought iron furniture with rubber cushions from which the zippered covers may be easily removed for cleaning.

A card table set of aluminum is new and very convenient. It has a plastic top and chair seats of Chinese red and white, pastel green and turquoise. It is light and easy to store and reasonably priced.

Lamps have bases of wrought iron, black and brass, with the two deck shades being the latest. Colors are in pinks, turquoise and working with both younger and older 4-H members. So will all you interested leaders please let us know of your intentions of going to camp by Sept. 19.

Records Due In Office

A small reminder to all leaders and 4-H club members—all 4-H records are due in the extension office, Sept. 30. Let's see how many 100 per cent clubs we have in Pettis County. All national award entries are due in the office, Sept. 28. I know that filling out the standard report form can be a trying task but no good 4-H'er sidesteps a tough job because of its complexity. If any of you club members are having difficulty with these report forms, drop in the office, Sept. 20 so that they may be sent to the state 4-H club leaders for their approval.

Installation Ceremonies

Throughout the county new officers have been, or shortly will be elected for the coming 4-H year. Each club will be furnished an installation ceremony for their use if they so desire. Also available at the Extension Office for those clubs desiring them is an initiation ceremony for new members. Should you desire any help for these installations, please feel free to call on us for help.

Awards and Reports

At the Kiwanis Club program held last Thursday noon, Marion Gregory (in absentia) and Betty Jo Reid of Houston, winners in the 4-H Livestock Showmanship competition held at the State Fair, were presented with winning medallions.

Carolina Staley, Route 2, gave an interesting report on Health Camp, and Martha Hammond, Star Route, and Virginia Grimes, Route 5, who were sent by the Kiwanis Club to the Junior 4-H Leadership Camp last July told of their experiences. These club members were presented by Miss Opal O'Briant, Pettis County home agent.

The theme for the event is a "Builders' Conference". Much of the emphasis of the conference is placed on working with the different maturity level of 4-H members. We try to give equal emphasis on working with both younger and older 4-H members. So will all you interested leaders please let us know of your intentions of going to camp by Sept. 19.

working with both younger and older 4-H members. So will all you interested leaders please let us know of your intentions of going to camp by Sept. 19.

Records Due In Office

A small reminder to all leaders and 4-H club members—all 4-H records are due in the extension office, Sept. 30. Let's see how many 100 per cent clubs we have in Pettis County. All national award entries are due in the office, Sept. 28. I know that filling out the standard report form can be a trying task but no good 4-H'er sidesteps a tough job because of its complexity. If any of you club members are having difficulty with these report forms, drop in the office, Sept. 20 so that they may be sent to the state 4-H club leaders for their approval.

Installation Ceremonies

Throughout the county new officers have been, or shortly will be elected for the coming 4-H year. Each club will be furnished an installation ceremony for their use if they so desire. Also available at the Extension Office for those clubs desiring them is an initiation ceremony for new members. Should you desire any help for these installations, please feel free to call on us for help.

Awards and Reports

At the Kiwanis Club program held last Thursday noon, Marion Gregory (in absentia) and Betty Jo Reid of Houston, winners in the 4-H Livestock Showmanship competition held at the State Fair, were presented with winning medallions.

Carolina Staley, Route 2, gave an interesting report on Health Camp, and Martha Hammond, Star Route, and Virginia Grimes, Route 5, who were sent by the Kiwanis Club to the Junior 4-H Leadership Camp last July told of their experiences. These club members were presented by Miss Opal O'Briant, Pettis County home agent.

The theme for the event is a "Builders' Conference". Much of the emphasis of the conference is placed on working with the different maturity level of 4-H members. We try to give equal emphasis on working with both younger and older 4-H members. So will all you interested leaders please let us know of your intentions of going to camp by Sept. 19.

Labor Secretary Says US Faces Shortage Of Skilled Workers

ST. LOUIS — Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell warned today the nation, despite its high level of prosperity, faces a critical shortage of skilled workers.

Mitchell told the Interstate Conference of Employment Security Agencies it appears there are not enough skilled workers "to meet the ever-growing demands of military and civilian production."

If the summit meeting is to be historic instead of episodic, Dulles said, peaceful change must come and "peoples and governments will renounce the use of war and subversion to achieve their goals."

Secretary Dulles seemed for a time yesterday to be convinced that this is a better world than it was a while back, but in the end his speech boiled down to a big if.

It was a conciliatory speech, and Russia's Molotov applauded. Instead, there was repetitions of demands for changes in Russian policy, primarily toward Germany and the Eastern European satellites.

Dulles didn't ask specifically as Eisenhower did not ask specifically at Geneva, for liberation of the satellites.

With regard to German reunification, Dulles applied himself primarily to recognition of Russian fears of remilitarization, saying the West would guarantee against aggression. He did not stress another chief factor, and that is the role Russia intends to establish for Germany in her plans for Communist expansion.

Dulles seems to think, along with some British authorities, that there is at least a chance the Russians will relax their hold on the satellites and East Germany. But nobody says when, or just what circumstances could bring it about, except the continued application of world pressure.

Out of a total work force of 67½ million, he said, there are now only 9 million skilled workers.
